KAISER SEES FOE REPULSE GERMAN LINE ON BIRTHDAY

Desperate Assaults Fail to Break Allies' Front North of Aisne-French Once More Demolish Invaders' Bridge Across Meuse at St. Mihiel.

Russians Half Way 'to Koenigsberg in New Drive-Czar Forces East Prussia Defenders West of Gumbinnen, But Loses Carpathian Heights.

Reckless charges by the German infantry along the western battle front, delivered in a desperate effort to obtain a striking victory on the Kaiser's birthday, have everywhere been repulsed, according to the French reports. The fighting was particularly violent in the region of Perthes and Craonne, north of the Aisne. At the Germans still hold trenches that they captured on Monday, but further attempts to advance have been checked, the Paris War Office maintains.

At St. Mihiel the French have again wrecked the pontoon bridges that the Germans had thrown across the Meuse in their persistent attempt to advance.

Koenigsberg again has become the immediate objective of Russian operations in East Prussia. The Czar's outposts are now 55 miles from the East Prussia capital, nearly half the distance between the great fortress and the Poland border.

Russian counter-attacks have neutralized the advantages gained early in he week by the resumed German offensive in the region of Gumbinnen, Hard fighting continues beyond Pillikallen, also in East Prussia, where the native forces have been driven several les westward.

Along the Galician front, from Jaslows to Uzsok, an energetic Austrian offensive has been met with vigor and beavy losses inflicted on the assailants. Sharp German attacks have been repolsed west of Warsaw at Borjimow, Gumin and Skierniewice, where the invaders' activity has increased, as it has in South Poland. In that zone unofficial reports say the Czar has been driven out of Kielce, in an assault in which Austrian airmen participated.

Vienna reports the gain of important heights in the valleys of the Ung, Latoreza and Nagy-Ag. The conflict has been violent along the three rivers for two days.

Strains of "Die Wacht am Rhein" were still drifting across to the French lines when the German attack suddenly broke on the French left. The Germans were within 300 yards of the barbed-wire entanglements before they were discovered. Searchlights were played upon the advancing Germans. Machine guns poured a withering fire into their ranks. The German charges against the French lines were renewed hourly today.

Fliers Co-operate With Infantry in Attack Near Craonne.

PARIS, Jan. 27.-Violent fighting of the most spectacular sort with Allied aeroplanes flinging bombs into thickly massed German troops while the French infantry charged into the confused ranks of the enemy is reported from Craonne.

Aeroplanes have been put to various uses in this war, but this is the first time that they have been used directly as an attacking agent in conjunction with infantry movements.

The Germans had just made a successful charge and had penetrated the French trenches between Heurtebise and the Foulon wood when several French airmen went aloft.

The fliers gained a point above the lost trenches and rained down a deadly ball of explosives. The Germans were thrown into confusion, for they had no way of meeting this attack. The French infantry then charged with bayonets fixed, and without firing a shot drove out

SUFFRAGE MEASURE PUTS ISSUE BEFORE VOTERS NEXT FALL

Philadelphian Introduces Bill Passed by Legislature at Last Session-Farmers Oppose School Tax.

IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—The woman suffrage amendment to the State Constitution was introduced in the House today by William H. Wilson, of Philadelphia, a Vare lieutenant. The amendment was referred to the Judiciary General Committee without discussion.

This measure passed the 2012 results.

This measure passed the 1913 session of the Assembly and if approved by the present session it will go to the voters for indexsement or rejection this fall.

The Federal Government is to defray half the amount in each case. These two bills and several others, in-cluding one to amend the School Code to provide that the school tax shall be levied in the same manner as the municipal tax, were introduced during a 20-minute session after which the House adjourned until Monday night at 9 o'clock. The school tax revenue will suffer a depreciation of about $65,000 if the bill which Representative Dunn, of Philadelpaia, introduced becomes a law. This bill puts the school tax on the same prin-cipal of assessment as the municipal tax, which is now levied on improved city property at the full rate of $1 per

GREAT NORTHERN DEPARTS ON MAIDEN VOYAGE TODAY

Steamship Ready to Take 500 Passengers to San Francisco. Hundreds of persons will assemble this afternoon on Pier 53, South Wharves, at the foot of Washington avenue, to chees the departure of the Northern Pacific Steamship Company's big steamship, the Great Northern. The vessel leaves at o'clock on her maiden voyage, going to San Francisco via the Panama Canal. She will carry 500 passengers. It is expected that the voyage will last about 17 days. Stops will be made at Colon, Balboa and San Diego.

The Great Northern was constructed by the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company. Her sister ship, the Northern Pacific, is scheduled to leave on her official trial trip in a few days. These vessels are the fastest, finest and largest passenger and freight steamships ever built for the American merchant ma-rine. Every modern convenience for the safety, amusement and comfort of the passengers has been provided. The passengers has been provided. The method of handling the cargo by elevators instead of the usual cargo derrick-boom hoists is looked upon as the last word in freight lifting.

Each vessel is capable of making 24 knots an hour, which places them high on the list of the world's fastest merchant ships.

Captain Abman, commodors of Great Northern fleet, has been placed in command of the Great Northern, and will guide her on this trip. The vessel will pass out the Delaware Capes about mid-night tonight.

"TOWN IS GOING TO HELL," CRIES "BILLY" SUNDAY

Church Members Who "Put Repentant in Icebox" Scored by Evangelist in Stirring Sermon.

Devil Plays in Backyard While You Sit in Pew," He Shouts; Urging Charity to All.

"You sit in your fine homes and sea the town going to hell without raising a finger to save it." These cutting words were only a few of the caustic remarks Billy" Sunday hurled at indifferent church members during his sermon in the tabernacle this afternoon. He was preaching on "Personal Work" for the third time since he came here, and never heretofore has he been more severe in his criticism of those who "sit still in their pews while the devil plays in the back yard.

He urged activity, enthusiasm and sincerity in the lives of church members "You need courage," he said, "It's hard to do personal work, and you can always count on it that the old devil will be around the corner trying to head you off every time you drive a spike home for Christ's church.

"It will surprise you to see many persons lie to get out of personal work. That's the devil in them that makes them try to evade helping us. It's a shame so many persons who want to shine in business, in professional life and in society are in hiding when they are called upon to do something for Jesus Christ.

NEED OF ENTHUSIASM.

NEED OF ENTHUSIASM.

"You'll never accomplish anything worth while for God without enthusiasm," he shouted. "Formality is cooking religion to death. You want to get awake, get alive for Christ and to keep your friends out of heli."

"When a man knocks a base hit and drives home a winning run and breaks the tie score, you yell like a Comanchs Indian and carry the hero from the field on your shoulders. But when a prodical sen makes a base hit for God and a nome run from the hogpen of heli to sen makes a base hit for God and a nome run from the hoggen of heil to heaven we put him in the ice tox. It's so foolish. Drop-your dignity and be true."

Again Sunday asked all to help make Philadelphia a better city. He declared the tabernacle twas erected to make the city purer, soberer and more moral, and insisted that it is going to do this if Christians will come out for the campaign and help to boost it.

"After you do your best you'll feel like doing Letter. I always do, I always want to preach a better sermon than I want to preach a better sermon than I have after I stop talking. God expects you to get busy. The man who lives for himself alone will have the privilege of being mourner, and perhaps sole being mourner, and perhaps mourner, at his own funeral."

He urged Christians to be sympathetic -not with the sins of the non-Christian, but with the individuals. "God hates sin and the devil." he said.
"He will not compromise. Have sympathy with the girl who sins, but not with the sin that ruined her. Get down on the ground where the others are and help lift them up. You're not much of a Christian yourself if you sit up on a pedestal and consider yourself above everybody else and watch men and women go to hell."

A delegation of clergymen from Newark. N. J., was present in the tabernacle this afternoon. The visitors urged Mr. Sunday to conduct a campaign in their city within the next 12 months. They are to meet the evangelist for a conference this evening. The Rev. George G. Vogel, a district superintendent for the Methodist Episco-pai Church, heads the delegation. Officials of the Sunday Campaign Committee, following an investigation of the excitement in the tabernacle last night when several thousand persons caused a disturbance when they were unable to get to their seats, said today reports of the excitement had been exaggerated. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the officials in the campaign headquarters this morning. The excitement developed when persons holding tickets were admitted to the special entrances on 19th street and then prevented from going to their seats. Doors 18 and 19 are set aside for the admission of persons having tickets for party reservations.
